

AALRR WebTrain Management Performance Series (May 2017)

Protect your organization from costly legal threats for managers and supervisors. Join AALRR employment attorneys as they show you how to comply with basic human resources practices and laws and help your company avoid situations that may lead to expensive employee issues or even lawsuits.

The dynamic four-part webinar series enables managers and supervisors to build and refine the skills needed to manage people more effectively and understand the legal consequences of their actions. Each interactive and educational webinar includes comprehensive course materials, an after-session quiz and a certificate of completion of the four-week series.

Who should attend?

New and experienced department managers and supervisors who may have no formal human resources training or are looking for a refresher course about current rules, regulations and legal practices concerning human resources.

Part 1: Discrimination, Diversity, & Harassment Issues

Thursday, May 11, 2017 – 10-11:30 am

Part 2: From Hiring to Firing and Everything in Between

Thursday, May 18, 2017 – 10-11:30 am

Part 3: Wage & Hour Compliance Issues

Thursday, May 25, 2017 – 10-11:30 am

Part 4: Disabilities, Reasonable Accommodation & Essential Leaves Issues

Thursday, June 1, 2017 – 10-11:30 am

Training Fee:

$4,500 – Four-part series 1-20 attendees.

Additional attendees $100 each.

Each meeting is worth 1.50 continuing education credits.

To register or if you are interested in specific training for your company on these topics, contact Brooke Myers | bmyers@aalrr.com | 562.653.3200 | www.aalrr.com or Jane Guesnon | jguesnon@aalrr.com