Cutting Through the Haze: How to Address the Growing Specter of Marijuana in the Workplace

With the passage of Prop 64, marijuana is more commonplace than ever. With this changing legal landscape, it is critical that public employers understand their rights in addressing employee marijuana use.

Our briefing will discuss:

- When and how can a public employer conduct drug testing?
- What is the scope of acceptable marijuana use in the workplace?
- What affirmative steps can a public employer take to address issues of marijuana use with its employees?

Join us for a discussion of these timely issues to ensure that your agency is not left high and dry.

Join us for this complimentary informative session.
